Santa Fe, NM — The City of Santa Fe Community Gallery is proud to present Behind Studio Walls: a preview of the Santa Fe Studio Tour.

Now in its 18th year, the annual Santa Fe Studio Tour is one of northern New Mexico's most anticipated free art events, inviting the public into the private studios of established and emerging local artists.

This June, the Community Gallery presents a special preview exhibition featuring nearly 100 selected works by participating artists, revealing a fascinating cross-section of Santa Fe's working artists as well as a first glimpse of what awaits on the Tour.

Held for two weekends each summer across Santa Fe and surrounding areas, the Santa Fe Studio Tour offers a rare behind-the-scenes look at artists' creative processes, from painting and sculpture to jewelry, ceramics, printmaking, and mixed media. The self-guided format encourages exploration of Santa Fe's diverse neighborhoods and landscapes, making the event both a cultural experience and a celebration of the region's vibrant artistic community.

Participating artists can be found at <https://www.sfestudioart.com>
